

Copyright and Limitation on Use of Material

The materials made available on this page were conceived and produced by Agriness, legitimate and exclusive holder of all copyrights arising from the works, which are protected in accordance with the terms of Law No. 9.610, of February 19, 1998 (“Copyright Law”).

Through this page, it is allowed to download the reports made available, free of charge, but their use is limited to the user's individual and non-commercial use, and any form of (re)distribution of the file is prohibited, even non-profit, without prior and express consent from Agriness. The user is authorized to disclose the material, as well as to quote excerpts, provided that there is a corresponding and appropriate citation of authorship, according to ABNT standards, including the indication and availability of the official place where the document is available.

The user, before downloading the file, acknowledges and declares the acceptance of the terms of use, being aware of the limitations provided, and being civilly and criminally responsible for any form of unauthorized use, reproduction or distribution, under the terms of the Copyright Law, and the applicable Brazilian legislation.